

C-28: Sally Gokey is here with her two grandchildren, Lillian and Shane.

C-29: We thank this table of four for their support of our K of C 11553.

C-30: This table of six is moving right along. Thank you for your support!

C-31: Thanks for your support. Bob Scott (second from right) and his wife Geraldine are here today. Bob handles our church website. They are usually on the road camping all the time.

C-32: This is a happy group enjoying their meal.

C-33: Harold Barette and his wife, Rozetta, are enjoying breakfast. Rozetta is the Past President of the Ladies Auxiliary.

C-34: This table is really enjoying themselves as the drawings are going on.

D-01: This is the first bus to arrive at the Sarasota National Cemetery from Twin Lakes Park. People park at Twin Lakes Park and take this shuttle.

D-02: Sara Peeples warms up in the morning. She will be singing throughout the Mass today. The Mass will be for all our veterans and families.

D-03: This is the "Fallen Soldier" display in front of the Military Service Flags.

D-04: This is the votive cross.

D-05: The tent this year is 10 feet longer than the one used last year. Not many people have arrived yet.

D-06: This cross will be used so veterans can hang their dog tags and have them blessed.

D-07: Peter Pesa, Past Grand Knight of Council 11553, with his wife, Joanne, a friend, Linda, and Jackie Hardman.

D-08: More people are arriving. This wreath will be carried in with the procession of Bishop Frank Dewayne.

D-09: This is the altar set up for the celebration of the Mass.

D-10: Workers are preparing for the Mass.

D-11: Part of the color guard for the Bishop: (L to R) Past GK Ed Farrell of Council 11553,(now with Our Lady of Lourdes), Leo Szfranski, David Muravez and Marion Sierocuk—all from Council 11553.

D-12: The color guard forms for the procession into the tent with Bishop Frank Dwayne.

D-13: The tent is slowly filling up.

D-14: A view of the inside of the tent from the front.

D-15: A rear side view of the tent as it is getting filled to capacity.

D-16: The procession begins into the tent.

D-17: The procession continues with priests from the area.

D-18: Bishop Frank J. Dewayne, Bishop of the Diocese of Venice, follows in the procession into the tent.

D-19: Sara Peeples sings "Panis Angelicus" at Holy Communion as Greg Murray plays the piano.

D-20: People receive communion at the sides of the tent.

D-21: In the distance the color guard gives a 4-gun salute as the trumpeter plays taps.

D-22: The ceremonies are all over as people queue up to get the bus back to Twin Lakes Park to get their cars.

D-23: More buses arrive to take everyone back to Twin Lakes Park.

D-24: Browsing around the Sarasota National Cemetery, we see the Founders Plaque in front of the Administration Building.

D-25: Waiting for the bus are (L to R) Jackie Hardman, Marguerite Cook and Marianne Riley. Marguerite is visiting with Marianne, her sister.

D-26: In looking at some of the stones, you can see inscriptions with the different religious signs at the top of the stones. This one indicates "Christian".

D-27: This one indicates "Judaism" with the Star of David at the top.

D-28: This icon at the top signifies the "Christian Church".

D-29: This icon represents the "United Methodist Church". There are many more religions represented by different symbols.

D-30: Here we have the Columbarium Section for the ashes of the deceased. This side of the section is all filled up. Last year there were none.

D-31: This is a close-up view of photo D-30. The inscriptions are about the same as on a regular tombstone. Notice the religion icons at the top.

D-32: This Amphitheater was started at the beginning of the calendar year 2013. It will hold about 2800 people with a roof covering it.

D-33: This white framework will be raised and become the roof covered with a material to make it rain-proof. See next photo.

D-34: This architect drawing shows the complete overview of the new Patriot Plaza. The Patterson Foundation of Sarasota donated $10 million to this.

D-35: This is a "burial shelter". This is used for all burial ceremonies before the actual interment. There is little space at the actual burial site.

D-36: You can get to the cemetery taking I-75 and going 4 miles east from exit 205.

E-01: This is the display room for the CCW Crafts Sale held on Nov 15-17, 2013 at the Parish Activity Center.

E-02: Pat Pennisi stands at her booth waiting to take care of her wares when people come in.

E-03: Pat Ciotti is ready to work her booth. The ladies have worked hard to create all these things to sell for the CCW.

E-04: Connie Carew is working this year's Craft Sale for the CCW. The ladies do a great job making all these items.

E-05: Ryan Schwaner displays a fancy rug which looks too nice to step on.

E-06: Florence Schimek stands by the sweets which should sell pretty fast.

E-07: Ann Bailey(white shirt) signs a "card for the troops" with workers from left: Marianne Riley, Marguerite Cook and Florence Schmek.

E-08: Mary Jane McKenzie, President of the CCW, is ready to work wherever she is needed.

E-09: Customers are coming in to check things over on Friday, Nov 15.

E-10: More customers are perusing the tables.

E-11: Lillian Mendenhall takes care of the front desk which includes raffle tickets.

F-01: This is Pasta Dinner night for our K of C 11553. The servers are standing around waiting for The people to come in.

F-02: Looks like the salads are ready to go.

F-03: Four guys are already started on their spaghetti.

F-04: Here we have some steadfast supporters of our K of C events.

F-05: This table of six have their salads.

F-06: There are some familiar faces here.

F-07: Another table of 7 getting started with their Salads.

F-08: This looks like a table for two for the Hennessys. Diane is our church organist.

F-09: Salads are always nice to start off a meal. These people seem to be enjoying it.

F-10: These Polynesian Village visitors are from left: Phyllis Keidel, Lois Terzinski, Bob and Mickie Weston, and Florence Schimek.

F-11: These people are supporters of our K of C events this year. Our money goes to charities.

F-12: This is the table of Jack and Lynn Sarles, the big winners of our past 50/50 drawings.

F-13: This is a fun table out to have a good time.

F-14: Most of this table is made up of our K of C members and their wives.

F-15: This looks like another familiar table seen at Our events.

F-16: Bro Knight Bob Foley picks a 50/50 winner for this round. Bro Jim LeClaire holds the jar of tickets.

F-17: We thank this table and all the others for supporting our K of C Pasta Dinner tonight.

F-18: This is a great group of 9 at an 8-person table.

F-19: It's so nice to see happy tables like this one.

F-20: These people continue to help our cause for charity.

F-21: Bro John Knapke's table always does well.

F-22: Thanks again for your support. Also, many thanks to the volunteer workers that you see in the background. They make things possible.

F-23: Looks like these people are in the middle of their spaghetti.

F-24: Thank you for coming out to support us to-night. We appreciate it.

F-25: Thanks to all these good people for supporting The K of C tonight, Nov 15.

F-26: Here are 8 more people enjoying the pasta to-night.

F-27: This table seems to be enjoying themselves. Thanks for your support.

F-28: This table seems familiar as they've been here before. Thanks.

F-29: These five ladies are dressed to the nines and enjoying their pasta.

F-30: This is a great table with 10 people around an 8 person table.

F-31: These people appear to be starting their evening. As you can see in the background, it's getting dark earlier these days.

F-32: This is a nice table in the middle of their pasta. Thanks for coming out tonight.

F-33: This is a nice table of 4.

F-34: This table of 6 is just getting started.

F-35: Glad these seven people could be here for our second Pasta Dinner of our K of C year which starts on July 1 each year.

F-36: Bro John Brower (R) is sitting with a table of 8. Thanks for supporting our Knights in their charities.

F-37: This is our group with bibs. This is the proper way to eat spaghetti.

F-38: We thank this group for coming out tonight to help support our K o C 11553.

F-39: We see some of the workers from the CCW Craft Sale getting caught up with some food along with some others.

F-40: This 4 decides to have a toast.

F-41: On the right we have two more from Polynesian Village, LaDonna Rolfes and Clarice Dell'anno along with three others.

F-42: This is our big table of the night, 11 people at an 8-person table. Nice going.

F-43: Bro Jim Hanyak (R) is here with his 1st Cousin with the tie, evidently celebrating something.

F-44: Here are a few more CCW workers taking a break from the Craft Sale to eat.

F-45: We've seen these familiar faces before at our events.

F-46: Another full table of 8. Thanks for supporting the charities.

F-47: Server Mary Raybold gets her pudding desserts from left: Phyllis Bailey, Faye LeClaire and Marian Kelly.

F-48: Chris Garlasco hands a spaghetti plate to one of our servers.